

44 Station Street POREPUNKAH VIC

4 1

If you would like to own a piece of High Country history then look no further than here at 44 Station St Porepunkah. A property that has retained its beauty and charm with its high ceilings, stain glass windows, polished timber floors, and wide verandahs all while sitting on a one acre parcel of land.

This was one of the earliest homes in Porepunkah and for many years was a guest house for visitors to the region and in particular was a stop off point for those travelling to Mount Buffalo.

It now presents as a four bedroom home with its original front entrance and wide hallway leading you through to an extension on the northern side of the home that encompasses the living space, kitchen, bathroom and laundry.
